EAST-WEST CENTER ONLINE COMMUNITY

Welcome to the East-West Center Community

The East-West Center connects the Asia Pacific region to the rest of the world and enables a shared set of values that promote peace, prosperity, and a sustainable future. The EWC community is an online community that helps members network and exchange information with one another.

This is the EWC's online community for East-West Center alumni and friends. It is a vital network that allows members to stay in touch with former classmates and friends and to share information about events, career opportunities, and endeavors. The network uses the latest technology to provide a dynamic, interactive, and user-friendly platform for alumni and friends to connect, share information, and participate in the EWC community.

The EWC community is open to all alumni and friends of the EWC. To join the EWC community, visit the EWC website and click on the "Alumni" link in the top navigation bar. From there, you can create an account and start networking with other EWC alumni and friends.

ALUMNI ACHIEVEMENTS

Real estate and investment deal worth $16 billion:

Robert C. Leffert, 1979 graduate, is a partner at "One of the nation's top real estate and investment firms," according to Forbes. His firm, Leffert Capital, specializes in debt and equity transactions and is known for its expertise in the real estate industry. Leffert has been involved in some of the largest and most important real estate deals in the country, including the acquisition of the Trump International Hotel and Tower in New York City.

Alex Guo (M.A., 2003), director of marketing for a company, is a former intern at a tech company. His role involves developing and implementing marketing strategies to increase the company's visibility and brand awareness. He has also worked on several high-profile projects for clients such as Google and Microsoft.

In recognition of his contributions to the field of technology, Guo was named a "40 Under 40" honoree by Forbes Magazine in 2015. He currently lives in San Francisco with his wife and two children.

EWC CHAPERS

Kula, Hawaii (Kula, Kula 96790) is one of the many local chapters of the East-West Center. Kula is a small town located on the northern shore of Maui Island. The chapter meets regularly to discuss issues related to the Asia-Pacific region and to share information about events and developments in the community.

To learn more about the chapter, visit the EWC website and click on the "Chapters" link in the top navigation bar. From there, you can find information about upcoming events and contact information for the chapter leaders.

EWC AND EWC ONLINE NETWORKS

The East-West Center is committed to its mission of fostering understanding and cooperation among nations and peoples of the Asia-Pacific region. To support this mission, the EWC has created several online communities for alumni and friends to stay connected and engaged in the EWC community.

Visit the EWC website for more information about the EWC communities and how you can get involved.
